The Carolina Thread Trail committee is seeking additional input from Catawba County residents.

The committee posted an online survey for residents to answer questions about where trails should be in the county.

Catawba County Assistant Planning Director Mary George said the more input received from residents, the better the thread trails will be.

"This is a fact-finding mission," George said. "The 30 people on a committee don't know everything, so we try and get input from folks."

George said so far the committee has received more than 200 responses from the online survey. The survey is in addition to three public information sessions held earlier this year.

"We want to find out everybody's opinions," George said. "Do they support the thread trail? Do they have concerns? What are good places for the trails to connect?"

In addition, George said the committee hopes to hear from the county's younger crowd about what they want from the trails over time.

The survey will be available for at least two more weeks. Visit www.surveymonkey.com/s/BT8KJKY
