

Your News

Sunday, January 30, 2011

Compiled by Lauren Bailey, Adam Bell and Cliff Harrington

[excerpted]

Monroe

Carolinas Medical Center-Union and Charlotte Radiology will provide free screenings for peripheral vascular disease Friday from 9 a.m.-2 p.m., in the Outpatient Treatment Pavilion on the CMC-Union campus, 600 Hospital Drive, Monroe.

The event is part of Legs for Life, a nationwide screening program.

Four open houses will be held this week about proposed trails and greenways in Union County.

They would be part of the Carolina Thread Trail, an extensive trail network that will reach through 15 counties and link significant trails and attractions in and out the region. Here are the meetings:

6 p.m.-8 p.m., Wednesday, Monroe Aquatics & Fitness Center, 2325 Hanover Drive, Monroe.

6 p.m.-8 p.m., Thursday, Wingate Community Center, 315 W. Elm St., Wingate.

6 p.m.-8 p.m., Friday, Waxhaw First Friday at the Women's Club, 200 E. S. Main St., Waxhaw.

10 a.m.-1 p.m., Saturday, Extreme Ice Center, 4705 Indian Trail-Fairview Road, Indian Trail. For more information, contact Shelley DeHart at (704) 821-5401 or Travis Morehead at (704) 376-2556.

<http://www.charlotteobserver.com/2011/01/30/2014508/your-news.html#ixzz1CuAhoPaN>