

Iredell adopts Thread Trail plan

Posted: Sunday, Jul. 31, 2011

STATESVILLE The Iredell County Board of Commissioners recently adopted a plan for developing the Carolina Thread Trail network of trails and greenways in the county.

Iredell is the 10th county in the 15-county Charlotte region to adopt a master plan for the Thread Trail, which will be developed over many years.

"With improved connectivity between destinations in Iredell County, commuting by bicycle and foot will become safer, more convenient and enjoyable," Jeff Archer, local steering committee member and owner of First Flight Bicycles in downtown Statesville, said in a statement after the Iredell board adopted the Iredell part of the plan.

The Iredell County communities of Harmony, Love Valley, Mooresville, Statesville and Troutman previously adopted the plan. View the adopted map at www.carolinathreadtrail.org.

<http://www.charlotteobserver.com/2011/07/31/2487789/work-to-begin-on-hotel.html>